Puzzled Parents Support Group
-Helping you put the pieces together.

ARE YOU PUZZLED?

Don’t know where to turn to for help?
Is your child struggling with something?
You just don’t know what to do to help your child?
Are you simply at your wit’s end?
Do you think why me? Am I the only one?
Does your child have a learning difficulty?
Does your child not want to go to school?

YOU ARE NOT ALONE...

Parents/carers of children in the Mano school community are invited to come to a Puzzled Parents Support Group, which will be a safe and nurturing environment to talk with others, who may be or have been through what you are going through.

No worry is too big or small.

The aim of Puzzled Parents is to help you through sharing and listening in a group environment where you might find some understanding or perspective on your worries about your child. Perhaps just by talking, you can support someone else who is feeling the same way. We might not have all the answers and we are not professionals, but we are parents/carers just like you.

TOGETHER WE CAN ALL HELP PUT THE PIECES TOGETHER...
